COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

There is to be a public meeting tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p. m. at Odson Hall to discuss the Act passed by the 103rd Legislature to establish a Bethel Water District. This will be voted on June 7th at the special town meeting. The voting on the article will be done at the Fire Station in the same manner as elections are held, that is, during the day by secret ballot. In the evening there will be articles presented on other matters for the consideration of the townspeople. This will be done in the usual manner of a regular town meeting.

It is planned to have new folding booths at the Fire Station by June 7th. Rodney Brooks is in the process of building them at the present time. The old booths were in very poor condition plus the fact that they were difficult to town down and assemble each time an election is held.

Elwyn Dickey

Steve Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blake, Jr., has been accepted for enrollment at the Ted Williams Camp, Lakeville, Mass., June 11-24.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett of Ann Arbor, Mich., are spending some time with their parents. They plan to spend the summer at Littlefield Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rolfe and family were in Boston Tuesday to meet Mrs. Rolfe's mother, Mrs. Philippe of Rouen, France, who will visit them this summer.

The Senior Citizens of Bethel have been invited to attend the dress rehearsal of Sue Farrar's Dancing School on Thursday, June 2, at 4 o'clock at William Bingham Auditorium.

Last week Mrs. Ruth Hastings and Miss Helen Varner, members of Zeta Chapter of Alpha Psi State, attended the state convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society at Holiday Inn, Auburn. They, with Mr. Chapter of Lewiston, assisted with the registration.

Neither Owen Curtis, of Bethel, passenger in the Virgin car, or Willard Stuart of Portland, driver of the other vehicle, received injuries requiring hospitalization.

POPPIES CARRY ON

Poppies carry on to symbolize our remembrance of the sacrifices made by those who fought to keep our nation free. As moving approaches we reach this beautiful month of May when millions of Americans will wear the little red crepe paper poppy to honor our dead and help the living veterans and their families. Poppies made by our veterans are being sold on hospital wards come forth on Poppy Day and rest over every loyal American's heart where the memory of great sacrifices made by many is forever enshrined.

Look well into the tiny face of one single red paper poppy. It shines with broadened love, fulfillment of hopes, payment for education, paying of household bills, thought for others; substantial support for loved ones, the answer to dreams. Can any other flower mean so much and stand for so much as this little red crepe paper poppy?

The poppy cannot speak but its courageous red color glows to success. It needs you to help. Please help it to glow. Please help that glow to make the many veterans and their families who are groping in the darkness of despair.

OXFORD COUNTY EXTENSION BUDGET RESTORED TO $17,500

A meeting of the Oxford County Commissioners and Oxford County Extension officials ended in an agreement by the commissioners to restore the 1967-68 and 1968-69 Extension budgets to $17,500 each year. This amount was the figure approved by the state legislature when they voted the Oxford County budget in March. The $17,500 represents a $3,000 cut from the original request submitted by Extension officials.

It was generally agreed that Extension would stay within the budget figure. The money is used for rent, utilities, program of work, secretarial help, office supplies, and a small portion of agents' salaries.

The $17,500 is approximately 14-16% of the total expense of Extension in Oxford County, which is largely supported by the University of Maine, cooperating with the United States Department of Agriculture.

Extension President Frank Morse, said, "We're very pleased with the outcome of the May 16th meeting with the commissioners. This means Extension can carry out the program planned with out serious curtailment."

Roger Farnum finishing shingling the side of his house with the aid of Albert Cox, as Roger can't climb.

Relatives and friends from Falmouth and South Windham were Sunday callers at Roger Farnum's. Roger has received word from his son, Glenwood, N. J., that he is better, up and dressed, waits on himself, but will be in the hospital for at least six weeks yet.

Saturday some old friends of the Farnums for a ride and cook out at Coos Canyon on Swift River by the gem shop. The river was very swift and beautiful on account of high water, so much rain for this time of year.

George Turner, West Paris, called on Mr. and Mrs. Roger Farnum, one evening last week and drove them to see Mrs. Marlon Billings. While gone neighbors and friends from Bethel had called. Mrs. Billings took Phoebe and Ethel Farnum to Rumford last Friday to do usual laundry and shopping, took Roger Farnum to Rumford Point animal farm to visit with friends, the McKennas and McDonalds.

Callers at the Frank Browns were Phyl Melanson, George Hopkins, whose son, Albert, is home from the service to be at his brother Chester's funeral soon to be. A military service at the Andrews funeral parlor, date to be given later.

THANK YOU

We want to thank all the friends, relatives and neighbors through this wonderful paper, for the cards, letters, and phone calls since the loss of our loved one.

Especially to Dr. Young, Becky, Father McDonald, Grace Coburn, and the Greenleaf Funeral Home, and to all of those that helped us in any way. All is deeply appreciated.

LEGION AUXILIARY REVEALS TOTAL EXPENDED FOR YOUTH ACTIVITIES

For the benefit of children and youth in Bethel, a total of $187 was spent by the American Legion Auxiliary in the 12-month period ending May 31.

The expenditure of funds for child welfare and related youth activities is contained in a report filed by Mundt-Allen Unit, No. 81, Auxiliary with the respective state organization. President Carolyn Brooks announced today.

Funds were provided locally for needy families, Girls State, and Girl Scout Camp. Annually, the 14,000 Auxiliary Units file reports of their child welfare activities. These reports are gathered by the respective department (state organization) headquarters and forwarded to National Headquarters in Indianapolis, Indiana, where they are compiled and totaled.

President Brooks pointed out that the Legion's child welfare activities are not confined to wartime veterans' children, but are aimed at the improvement of conditions for all children. However, funds derived from the annual sale of poppies are limited in their use to wartime veterans and their children.

The Auxiliary members of Unit No. 81 are proud of their contributions of time, money, and effort in behalf of the youngsters here in Bethel, President Brooks declared.

Potato chips are by far the most widely used of the processed potato products on the market and are available in a variety of sizes.

OVER 60 ATTEND RETIRED TEACHERS MEETING

The Oxford County Retired Teachers Association met on Saturday, May 20, at the Wilkins House in Waterford, with an attendance of over sixty members and guests. Several new members were welcomed. After a luncheon served by the O.E.S., Marilyn Scribner and Cindi Hamlin of South Waterford entertained with vocal and instrumental numbers.

Mrs. Susie Sylvester of Brunswick, president of the Maine R. T. A., detailed the N. R. T. A. insurance plans and benefits.

Mrs. Bernice Greenlaw, of Norway, president of the county association announced the calendar of summer activities, Monday, June 26, tour of the Job Corps Center at Poland Spring; Tuesday, July 18, picnic at Paris Hill; August 9, 10, 11, Campus Days at Bowdoin College. The next regular meeting will be Saturday, Sept. 9, at Fryeburg.

STUDENTS ACQUIRING NEWSPAPER READING HABIT SAYS STATE DEPT.

Parents of Maine's elementary and secondary students from Fort Kent to Kittery, Eastport to Bethel, are noticing an increased interest in local, national and international affairs on the part of their children.

This interest is being stimulated by a new approach in many Maine schools to newspaper reading. Whether they are in the fifth grade or seniors in high school, students are acquiring the newspaper reading habit by almost as simple a means as by being exposed to it. They are discovering that newspapers have something more to offer than comics and the sports pages.

Students are learning the basic functions of the press: to inform; to advise; to interpret and persuade; to perform a service to readers and advertisers; and to entertain and educate. They are learning to read newspapers regularly and critically.

Teachers are correlating the news with English, reading, mathematics, history, geography, and economics to vitalize these subjects.

The direction for this program is coming from the Maine State Department of Education. Brian Hanson, who has been directing the program for 18 months, is a former teacher and school principal. He holds regional seminars for interested teachers, speaks to future teachers, to students in their classrooms and to interested civic groups. Teacher's guides, study materials and filmstrips are distributed by his office.

Newspapers are being furnished at a reduced rate by six of Maine's daily newspapers for use with classroom groups. Indication of the spreading interest among Maine teachers is evident in the increased orders for newspapers by schools. There has been an increase from 37,000 copies two years ago to 183,000 copies this year to date. Some schools make papers available for one, two or three weeks of study, while others use them all year long within the regular curriculum.
